MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN

SEVENTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, JULY 25, 1893.

ONE CENT.

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notions" from any more than a merchant can afford to give his customer free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

A Continuation of Our

$7.65

SUIT

SALE

We will continue to sell $10, $12 and $15 Suits for $7.65 during this entire month. There are two reasons for this. One is that we find we have many more good suits to put in this sale than we thought we had. The other reason is that our many country patrons are in the midst of the heaviest work of the year and did not have an opportunity to avail themselves of these splendid bargains; hence, the sale continues during the month. Don't miss the opportunity of buying for $7.65 a suit of clothes that would cost you $12 to $15 elsewhere, and at these prices you would not pay too much for them; they are worth it.

Respectfully,

DRESS GOODS.

For the next week we will offer thrifty purchasers a rare chance in Dress Goods buying. All of our great stock of Henriettes, Serges, covert, Poplins and chevrons in black and colors and all Novelty Goods subject to a discount of 20 per cent. If you buy now it means a clear saving of 40 per cent. Extra duty on wool, war taxes, etc. mean an advance of 25 per cent. on woolen goods next fall. Besides, our D-sew Goods prices are always under others. This is a great opportunity for the prudent buyer. It's entirely our loss and your gain. But we want the shirt room and no misdeed of dullness.

Some More Ribbon Bargains.

There are a few odds and ends in fancy stripes and checks, every one of 'em rich widths and of best grade silk.

The 50c. kind of regular 50c. value we've reduced to 30c. a yard.

The Shirtwaist Sale.

The past week's shirtwaist business is proof, evident that you appreciate a really good bargain. We'll continue the sale for another week. The $2 White Pique and Lawn Waists are now $1.50. All of our former $1.50 Waists are now 75c. and a regular 50c. Waist reduced to 30c. But they are selling rapidly. You'd better come soon before best are picked over.

Agnes, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Concanon of Lee street, was taken ill Saturday night with cholera infantum and died this morning at 1 o'clock. She was just a year old, and an extremely bright little child. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The Secretary of the Interior has at last appointed J. B. Whitcomb of Grayson a Forest Supervisor on a salary of $1,385 per year. This is the position given him for withdrawing from the Assistant District Attorneyship race. He will be assigned some place in the Western or North Central part of the country not yet determined by the Department.

One-fourth of the people on the earth die before the age of 6, one-half before the age of 16 and only one person in each 100 born lives to the age of 65. The deaths are estimated at 67 a minute, 7,750 a day, $5,630,000 a year, and the births at 70 a minute, 10,080 a day, 36,702,000 a year. The world's population, therefore, gains about 1,100,000 every year.

The Board of Directors of the Black Diamond have forwarded to Mr. Thomas Tamm of London a fee of $5,000 for examining the Black Diamond franchise. THE GLOBE

Mr. M. C. Russell had with him an 8-inch shell, and it was the object of much curiosity to the boys, who were anxious to catch a glimpse of something they will have to contend with when on the real battlefield.

Company B is for the present happily located, and the boys fully appreciated the manner in which they had been remembered by the citizens of their home city.

The gross earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio for the second week of July were $300,631, a decrease of $26,977, as compared with those for the corresponding week of last year.

LAWN PARTY.

The One at Washington Last Friday Night a Delightful Affair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gill of Washington last Friday evening entertained with a lawn party in honor of their niece, Miss Willie Watson, and her guest.

On reaching the Gill mansion it was a picture to behold—the lawn strewn with Chinese lanterns, the elegant parlors (lawned over) and a beautiful yard, and the music was a dream.

It was 3 o'clock in the morning when "Home, Sweet Home" was heard, and the dancing still continued.

The entire party returns thanks to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gill for the most delightful party ever given.

There were about twenty-five couples present. The refreshments were elegant.

FLAG PRESENTED.

Large Crowd Paid Another Visit to the Soldier Boys at Lexington.

ALL ARE HAPPY AND WELL.

A special train left this city yesterday at 8 a. m. over the L. and N., giving the citizens another opportunity to visit the boys now stationed at Camp Corbin, Lexington.

Four hundred and forty-three tickets were sold, the drum corps and band, of twenty-nine members, swelling the crowd to 472.

Before reaching Lexington the train carried seven or eight hundred people, stations along the route sending large delegations.

Arriving at their destination the Mayville Band and the Drum Corps, with other citizens, dined at the Phoenix Hotel, the two former, after dinner, entertaining with some fine National airs and martial music.

About 2 o'clock the Mayville visitors went in a body to Camp Corbin, where the handsome flag, purchased with funds subscribed by home people, was to be formally presented to Company B.

The flag was for two days the past week on exhibition in the showwindow of Mr. Henry W. Ray's Postoffice Drug store and was the subject of many complimentary remarks for its beauty.

Judge A. A. Wadsworth, in well chosen words, made the presentation address, Mr. Ben T. Cox responding in a fine speech. The remarks made by Mr. Cox greatly impressed his hearers by their significance. The flag was borne to the place by Messrs J. Barbour Russell and Clarence L. Matthews, and was proudly carried off by Mr. George Lloyd, a member of Company B.

During the simple but impressive ceremony the Mayville Band rendered several pieces. The Drum Corps made a great hit with the soldier boys, some of them expressing a desire to keep the corps in camp a few weeks, and if possible take it along with them on their Southern trip.

Mr. M. C. Russell had with him an 8-inch shell, and it was the object of much curiosity to the boys, who were anxious to catch a glimpse of something they will have to contend with when on the real battlefield.

Company B is for the present happily located, and the boys fully appreciated the manner in which they had been remembered by the citizens of their home city.

A Carriage-Case Emptied by the Cruiser Brooklyn into Cervera's Fleet.

Captain Alex Calhoun has the first real genuine all-brass and a foot long memento of the annihilation of Cervera's fleet by Uncle Sam's gunners.

It is the brass case of a six pounder shot fired by the cruiser Brooklyn in the naval engagement at Santiago July 3d.

It was obtained from a Naval officer by Mr. Frank A. Calhoun at Newport News and by him sent to Captain Calhoun.

JASPER M. HIXSON.

His Death on Saturday Afternoon at an Advanced Age.

Mr. Jasper M. Hixson died Saturday afternoon at the home of his great niece, Mrs. Berry Taylor, corner East Second and Wood streets.

He had been in feeble health for some time, but Friday evening he fell down a flight of steps, injuring his spine, the shock undoubtedly hastening death.

Mr. Hixson was born in Mayfield May 25th, 1813, and had consequently passed his 80th year.

In 1849 he went to California, remaining on the Pacific coast till 1874, and with the further exception of about a year in Tennessee, his life was spent in this state.

He was twice married, his wives being, respectively, Misses Harriet and Amanda Metcalfe, nieces of the late Eli F. Metcalfe.

For more than seventy years he has been a member of the Baptist Church at Mayfield.

The funeral took place at 10 o'clock this morning, the interment being at Mayfield.

SCISSORS!

For 25c. we sell a pair of such excellent quality it has surprised us. We really hardly hoped for so much goodness at 25c. They come in various lengths, and you will find them to last a long time. Good cutters all of them and put up in neat leather sheath.

EXTENDERS!

With addition of the Shirtwaist Extender it is impossible for the blouse front of a waist made of light materials or the front of a shirtwaist to fall in to the figure. Two sizes, medium and small. 25c. Skirt Extenders give a graceful addition to the figure and the proper set to the skirt. Light and can't get out of shape. In gray and white. 25c.

COOL CORSETS.

Light weight, yet all the right shape of the figure kept. Delightful for hot weather. Cool, strong nettings, medium length, French bust, extra long waist, boned with best English horn, 50c. a pair. A few sizes in Surprise Corsets left because out of some sizes. The price is 50c. instead of 75c.

This does not apply to all Ministers, only to those whom the shoe fits.

MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES.

Ministers Must Attach a Ten Cent Revenue Stamp on Such Documents.

Marriage certificates must now have upon them to be legal a ten-cent revenue stamp.

A Minister is required to place a ten-cent adhesive stamp on the certificate before taking it to the Courthouse for record. The law is very plain on the subject.

A Minister who fails to stamp a marriage certificate is subject to a heavy fine and the Clerk of the Court who records a certificate without a stamp is equally liable to a fine.

A question has arisen if, whether a Minister performs the marriage ceremony and gives a certificate and fails to put a stamp on the one that is left at the County Court for record and it is recorded without a stamp, that marriage is legal.

The Revenue Law has nothing to do with the legalizing of marriages, but a Minister or Clerk who fails to heed the stamp law is liable to get himself into serious trouble.

REMARKABLE FACTS.

United States Becoming a Factor in the World's Trade.

GAINING GROUND EVERY DAY.

The remarkable advance of the United States into the markets of the world is presented in a publication just issued from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of State, under the direction of Mr. Frederick Emory. While presenting elaborate statistics and data on the increase of this trade the world over, the subject is also treated broadly to bring out the general significance of this trade development, which Mr. Emory refers to as "An American invasion of the markets of the world." Although no reference is made to recent geographical and political changes, resulting from the appearance of the United States in the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico and elsewhere, yet the review deals with the important part which American enterprise and capital is taking in the development of the far East. In his introduction to the work, Mr. Emory says:

"The United States is no longer merely the 'granary of the world.' While its exports of agricultural products has increased to a remarkable extent during the past year, its sales abroad of many manufactured goods have continued to extend with a facility and promptitude of results which have excited the serious concern of countries that, for generations, had not only controlled their home markets, but had practically monopolized certain lines of trade in other lands. When we consider that this result has been reached with comparative ease, in spite of added impediments to United States exports, in the form of discriminations of various kinds, and notwithstanding that organized effort to reach foreign markets for our manufactures is as yet in its infancy, the ability of the United States to compete successfully with the most advanced industrial Nations in any part of the world, as well as with those Nations in their home markets, can no longer be seriously questioned."

The attention which foreign Governments have given to this rapid increase of American trade is discussed as follows:

"In view of what may be termed the American invasion of the markets of the world, the attitude of the leading commercial Nations towards each other and the relations in their industrial activity and trade interests bear to the United States become a matter of practical concern. The more important interests of the past year in foreign diplomacy have, therefore, a significance for us which might not have attached to them in the absence of concerted efforts to extend the sale of our goods. It may be said that the chief business of European diplomacy at the present day is to secure new spheres of influence and wider opportunities for trade as well as suitable territory for occupation by the overflow of population from the more densely inhabited countries. The world has watched the progress of the diplomatic drama in China with an interest which has heightened by the knowledge that the practical outcome might be either the opening of new channels of trade to the commerce of the globe, or the appropriation of them by particular Nations for their own special benefit."

"China has for some years been one of the most promising fields for American enterprise, industry and capital, and the entrance of the vast Empire upon the path of Western development under conditions which would secure equality of opportunity to the United States would doubtless result in immense gain to our manufacturers in the demand, sure to follow, for lines of supplies and goods of various descriptions that we are presently tilted to provide. The solution of the problem of the future commercial conditions of the Chinese Empire has, therefore, an immediate and most important relation to the expansion of our export trade, especially that of our Pacific slope. The partition of Africa among the European powers offers considerations of an economic character of almost equal magnitude, while the plans of the more active commercial Nations, for increasing their respective shares of the trade of the Latin-American markets affected us even more seriously in the development of our commercial intercourse with the Southern half of the Western hemisphere. The international isolation of the United States, so far as industry and commercial commerce are concerned, has, in fact, been made a thing of the past by the logic of the change in our economic requirements, and we can no longer afford to disregard international rivalries, now that we ourselves have become a competitor in the worldwide struggle for trade."

It is shown that international conditions in many of the foreign countries are bringing about important economic changes which affect the trade of the United States. In this connection Mr. Emory says:

"Nor is it with the relation of the different Nations towards one another that we are alone concerned. The industrial changes current within the territory of each obtain a new and much greater importance in their possible effect upon our nascent development as an export of manufactured goods. The conditions contributing to the rapid growth of manufactures in recent years, the fiscal changes in Russia, India and Japan, as well as in some of the Latin-American countries; the extraordinary impulse given to the industrial and commercial growth of the German Empire as a factor of international trade; the advance of Russia on similar lines; and the rapid progress of the Siberian Railroad toward an open port on the Yellow Sea; the efforts of Great Britain to meet the encroachments of other Nations; the decline of the sugar industry in the West Indies as a result of the best sugar competition; the troubles of Spain with her colonies; the discovery of gold in Alaska and the adjacent territory in British Columbia; the Tariff legislation of the United States, Canada and other countries—all the phases of economic changes during the past year have an interest and importance for the individual operative in the United States which are greatly enhanced by the transformation now going on in our industrial life, converting us slowly but surely from a people absorbed with the internal development of a virgin continent into one of the great commercial powers of the world, with the international interests and responsibilities which such a position naturally implies."

The body of the book treats in detail of American trade with all the countries of the world.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused, by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
